“ You were a great teammate and a great friend. More importantly, you were a great person. There is a bond that happens between teammates because you share the same space and time for a moment. But there is a bond between friends and loved ones because you share the same spirit, which is love, which is eternal. You will be missed my friend. By Almighty's hand I pray comfort and grace for your family. Till we meet again my friend. Till we meet again. Rest in peace.
