Horace Banks' life's journey began in Mount Vernon , New York on May 21st, 1930. He was born to Adell and Bannie Banks. Horace married Doris Fennell in 1955. The couple had two daughters.

Horace was a jazz enthusiast who loved Miles Davis; a sports fan who was a die hard supporter of the New York Giants.

Horace enjoyed fishing and gardening. He loved being around family and enjoyed playing pranks on them.

Horace worked for Levester Towers as a police officer then as a maintenance worker until his retirement after 20 plus years.

Horace was loved by many and his family will cherish his precious memories. He was preceded in death by his wife Doris Banks, his daughter Karen Banks , siblings Almond Banks, John Henry Banks, Lee Earnest Banks, Sarah Banks Evans, Mary Banks Nixon Waddell, and Marian Banks Simpson. Left to celebrate his life is his daughter Cheryl Ellison, grandsons Terrel and Rashaun Ellison and their wives, great grandchildren, nieces, nephews and a host of special family members & friends.

“ Uncle Horace I’m going to always remember how you used to call me “Domo”. You were the only one I let call me that. I’m going to remember all of the stories and wisdom you shared. After I got that C in math, you encouraged me to strengthen my math skills and get better at it. It’s because of you that I’m a math wiz today. You are my superhero. I’m going to miss you so much. Love you always and forever ❤️Domo
