Jalisa "Lisa" Nicole Brown (McCloud) was born in Nuremberg Germany on January 18th 1989 to Gary and Uneeda Watson McCloud. She transitioned from this life and entered into eternal peace on June 2, 2015.

Everyone that knew Jalisa knows she loved the Lord. As of 2012 until currently she and her family called Shiloh Baptist Church their home. Throughout all her trials and tribulations she never lost her faith.

She was a devoted wife and mother who loved God and her family. She was a woman that wore "integrity" well and had a smile that brought sunshine to any room. “ I remember my niece extreme faith, love, and unspeakable joy that consumed anyone in her presence. I always have known her to be a miracle baby, because when my sister became pregnant with her she thought she could not have anymore children. My heart is truly broken, however I know that she is resting in the presence of Jesus Christ! I will not say goodbye to her, but see you later!!!

“ I remember when I worked in the office at Boyd Anderson High School, Jalisa was one of the students that would make it a point to come in and say hi to me each and every day. Once, she was having a horrible day and I told her, "It'll be alright boo, just start over tomorrow". Now there's no more tomorrow. What an extreme heartbreak I've felt since I found out. That big 'ol pretty smile and personality will always be remembered. My prayers go out to all of Jalisa's family and friends. - Ms. Z. Diggs
