

John Henry Mack

September 22, 1945 - April 14, 2020

John Henry Mack was born on September 26, 1945 to Florence and Willie Mack. He was a hardworking, caring and straightforward person. John worked at Pantasote Plastics for more than 20 years. While working at Pantasote, John was a DJ and formed his own construction business; with his son working alongside him.

John loved his wife Irma for 49 years. They moved to McDonough, Georgia in 2001. After relocating to McDonough, John continued his construction business and was employed with Alpla Plastics in McDonough, Georgia. John leaves a life of memories with his wife, Irma D. Everette-Mack; four children, Trenis L. Mack, McDonough, GA, Dana S. Mack, East Orange, NJ, Keisha Guttierrez-Ruben, Englewood, NJ, and Angela G. Hawkes, Locust Grove, GA; fourteen grandchildren, five great grandchildren, a sister, Betty Williams, Passaic, NJ; two brothers, Walter Mack, Charlotte, NC and James Hogan, Mt. Holly, NC; along with a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

“ *Two days ago my brother Alex informed me that his dear friend John had passed. I had the good fortune to meet John and his lovely wife Irma several times, during my visits tto the USA. The times I spent with these gentle and wise people will remain a fond memory for me.
I wish Irma, John’s children and grandchildren and other loved ones strength in de period to come.*
