“ I send my condolences out to all the family. Woods was a damn good man he would give me the shirt off his back if I asked him. I loved that man like a brother from another mother. He was there for me anytime I asked just like I was there for him when he needed. He was a very blunt man and that's what I liked bout him, just like he told me your straight forward. That's why we got along cause we didn't care bout the difference between us we always looked at each other as a grace from god. Never matter what color we was we always shoot the shit with each other every day. I pray for everyone and I know it hurts but with time everything will heal. Love everyone keep your head up high cause that's what woods would want. RED
