“ Happy Mother's Day mama!! It's been 2 years and it still feels like yesterday you left me. It still hurts and now I just function without you around. I ask a lot why God had to take you out of all the people. I know heaven has a lot of special people up there. Tell grandma Dabney & grandma Rich I said happy Mother's Day as well. I'm gone continue to make you proud. The boys said happy Mother's Day too. Noah missed you everyday. Come to visit us today if you can beautiful ☐☐☐🌸

“ I love how aunt Rachel called me "Brax Brax" since I was a little kid. I still remember it like it was just yesterday everyday. I'll forever miss my Auntie because she believed in me when I thought I didn't have anybody. I know she's looking down and all I want to do is make her proud and make this short life worth it.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. I was thinking of Rachel and wanted to share a few memories I have of her. I have known Rachel for sometime and with every encounter with her she would always pay you a compliment. Rachel always looked so nice I know it was a regular appt to have her hair styled. I went over to her home one day and Rachel came to the door and was having a spa day and had a green mask on. She answered the door and I seen her and the green mask and I said RachL are you feeling okay. She said oh yes but I 'm going to be pretty when I take this off. Rachel never knew a stranger . We were going to dinner at Cracker Barrel and a car pulled up beside us and she started talking to them and it was pouring down rain. I said to Rachel I will go on in I didn't want my hair to get messed up and have it go flat. She came then and got out of the rain. I seen her and Danny at the Drs. Office one morning and I was checking in and I heard a voice behind me and Rachel was speaking to someone and began praying for her. Rachel had a sweet Kind heart. We will miss her in the years to come. She is now rejoicing to be home and enjoying fellowship with all of her loved ones who have gone before her and in the arms of Jesus. Rest In Peace.

“ There’s so many different times where I’ve either ran into Mrs. Rich or even came to her house. Every time I saw her, she always had a smile on her face that would light up a whole room. Her smile and greeting would always make me feel better somehow even during my most troubling times. I used to ask myself, “Why does she seem so happy all the time?” But later I think I realized that she was full of life and appreciative to be in this world each day. I hope one day I can aspire to do the same. I know you’re up in heaven making many angels smile as well. You will be missed Mrs. Rich!
